PREMIUM COCKTAILS

CAIPIRINHA

Brazil's national cocktail, made with cachaca mixed with sugar and fresh lime. Cachaca is Brazil's most common distilled alcoholic beverage.

MOJITO

During the American Prohibition, Cuba had a thriving bar culture. In fact, the day Prohibition was announced many companies outfitted ferries for overnight trips to the island, and the booze cruise was born and with it came this amazing mix of mint, sugar and lime topped with a generous serving of rum.

MARGARITA

A true classic citrus freshness is a match made in heaven with the complex flavours of tequila, served frozen with a biting salt rim. Margarita lovers: intake a small amount of salt with each sip as tequila pairs well with salt and lime. However, if you'd prefer no salt you have just to ask.

FROZEN STRAWBERRY DAIQUIRI

The Daiquiri was created in 1896 by Jennings Cox, an engineer who was working in a Cuban copper mine near the town of Daiquiri. This refreshing blend of rum, fruit and ice was a favourite tipple of Ernest Hemingway who would regularly work his way through 12 a night!
